

Position: ASP.NET/SQL Developer

Syllogistic Management Solutions is growing and we're looking for experienced industry professionals to join our team. Our consultants help Yardi users across the country get quick, accurate solutions to their technology questions. We offer a relaxed, flexible work environment with unlimited growth potential as well as health/dental insurance, retirement plan, and paid vacation.

We are looking for an experienced application developer/report writer to perform multiple large- and small-scale property management programming and data conversion projects on behalf of our growing client base. The qualified applicant will be capable of designing, developing, and implementing custom programming and reporting solutions in multiple platforms, and must be able to adhere to tight project plans. This position requires strong ASP.NET and SQL development skills.

The ideal candidate will have:

- Strong SQL skills (complex query analysis and development)
- 2 + years programming experience, specifically in SQL and ASP.NET
- Strong attention to detail
- Ability to handle multiple concurrent projects
- Excellent analytical and problem-solving skills
- Perseverance and willingness to work extra hours when needed
- Excellent spoken and written communication skills
- Familiarity with Yardi™ property management software or other property management software a plus

Work location is in Cummings Center located in the coastal town of Beverly, Massachusetts, 23 miles NE of Boston.

At Syllogistic Management Solutions we are looking for motivated, high performance, team players that are looking for something more than just a job.
